Brett Stockton, Corbin Finish Strong in Win

It's similar to the old chicken-egg question — what came first, the Clydesdales or the $25,000?

Whatever attracted people to Grayling Saturday, the largest crowd ever followed the 40th annual AuSable marathon and watched Brett Stockton and Serge Corbin take charge and win in 14 hours, 34 minutes and 32 seconds.

It was the fifth marathon victory for Brett Stockton, of Grayling, who at age 24 is on a pace to catch the all-time AuSable marathon leader Ralph Sawyer. Sawyer won eight marathons and has the highest number of points based on top finishes.

It was the third marathon win for Corbin, who is regarded by many as the top paddler in North America.

Coming in second was Tony Short, of Waters, and Eric McNett, of Maine, who led for more than half the race. They finished at 14:43:35, nine minutes and three seconds behind Stockton and Corbin.

Short, only 23, finished second for the fifth time in six years in the marathon. It was the second straight runner-up finish for McNett.

Coming in third was Butch Stockton and Solomon Carriere, who had set the marathon record in 1984. The third place finish broke Butch's string of five straight marathon victories — a record.

Short and McNett wanted to build a big lead on the Stockton teams to avoid a sprint finish and they succeeded for two-thirds of the race.

Short and McNett started pulling away from Stockton-Corbin and Stockton-Carriere after McMasters Bridge. By Parmelee their lead had increased by more than four minutes.

Brett Stockton and Corbin were more worried about Stockton and Carriere and stayed behind with them. Past McKinley, Short and McNett opened a lead of more than seven minutes.

But by Alcona Dam, both the Stockton canoes had crept closer to the leaders. After the Alcona Dam portage, Brett Stockton and Corbin decided to put the hammer down and go after the leaders. Corbin switched to a sprinting paddle and the team took off. They took the lead at Five Channels Dam and increased it the rest of the way.

Butch Stockton became ill around Alcona and almost had to pull out of the race. But they managed to hang on and finish ahead of the fourth place team of Rick Joy and John Hollands.

Dave Shepherd, of Frederic, and Jim Harwood, of Grayling, took 5th.

Another local team Mark Kolka and Minard Harwood took 8th place. Bill Martella and Ed Martella, formerly of Grayling, took 11th.

The only female team in the race, Lynne Witte and Nancy Shelhorse, took 14th place, finishing more than a half hour off their record time set last year.

Ernie Theisen and Ken Witte took first in the amateur division in 16:29:18 but the big story for local race fans was the finish of two 15-year-old paddlers Todd VanDeVen and Eric Swander. In their first attempt, the young pair finished the entire race and actually beat one of the pro teams.

Here is the finish of the paddlers:

County Asks Military To Pay Ad-Valorem Taxes

By Don Geiss

Crawford County Treasurer Joe Wakeley has asked State Senator Connie Binsfeld to look into the possibility of sponsoring legislation which would require the military to pay ad-valorem taxes on any property it purchases.

In a letter to Senator Binsfeld, Wakeley pointed out that each year the Michigan State Department of Military Affairs purchases some land and the "losses to the county tax base will be significant over a period of time."

Investigation into the matter of land purchases by the military reveals that they have obtained land on the basis of willing seller-willing buyer. County records show that 28 parcels of land have been obtained within the past few years.

The property in which the military has been interested is within the boundaries of the land they have designated on maps as a military reservation. (See map) The privately owned parcels in some cases have residences on them and those already purchased range in State Equalized Valuation (SEV) from $10,800 to $20,300.

Wakeley's letter pointed out that the land purchased by the military since 1983 has an SEV of $133,800. Only one or two of the parcels were purchased that long ago. The majority have been obtained since 1985 and with increased rapidity in the past few months.

The loss in taxes each year on the parcels amounts to $5,620 per year, Wakeley said. He based that figure on research done by the Avalanche on tax records over the past 10 years. A study of the area where purchases have been made shows that there are many more privately owned plots that could be turned over to the military at any time. At least one person indicated within the past two weeks that he is contemplating selling.

Wakeley also asked Senator Binsfeld whether it would be possible to include Crawford County in Outstate Equity legislation. He based that request on the fact that the military is important to every resident of the state and the burden should be taken from the shoulders of local taxpayers alone. He pointed out that roads are severely impacted and the man hours of overtime both by the City of Grayling Police Department and the Crawford County Sheriff's Department are many.

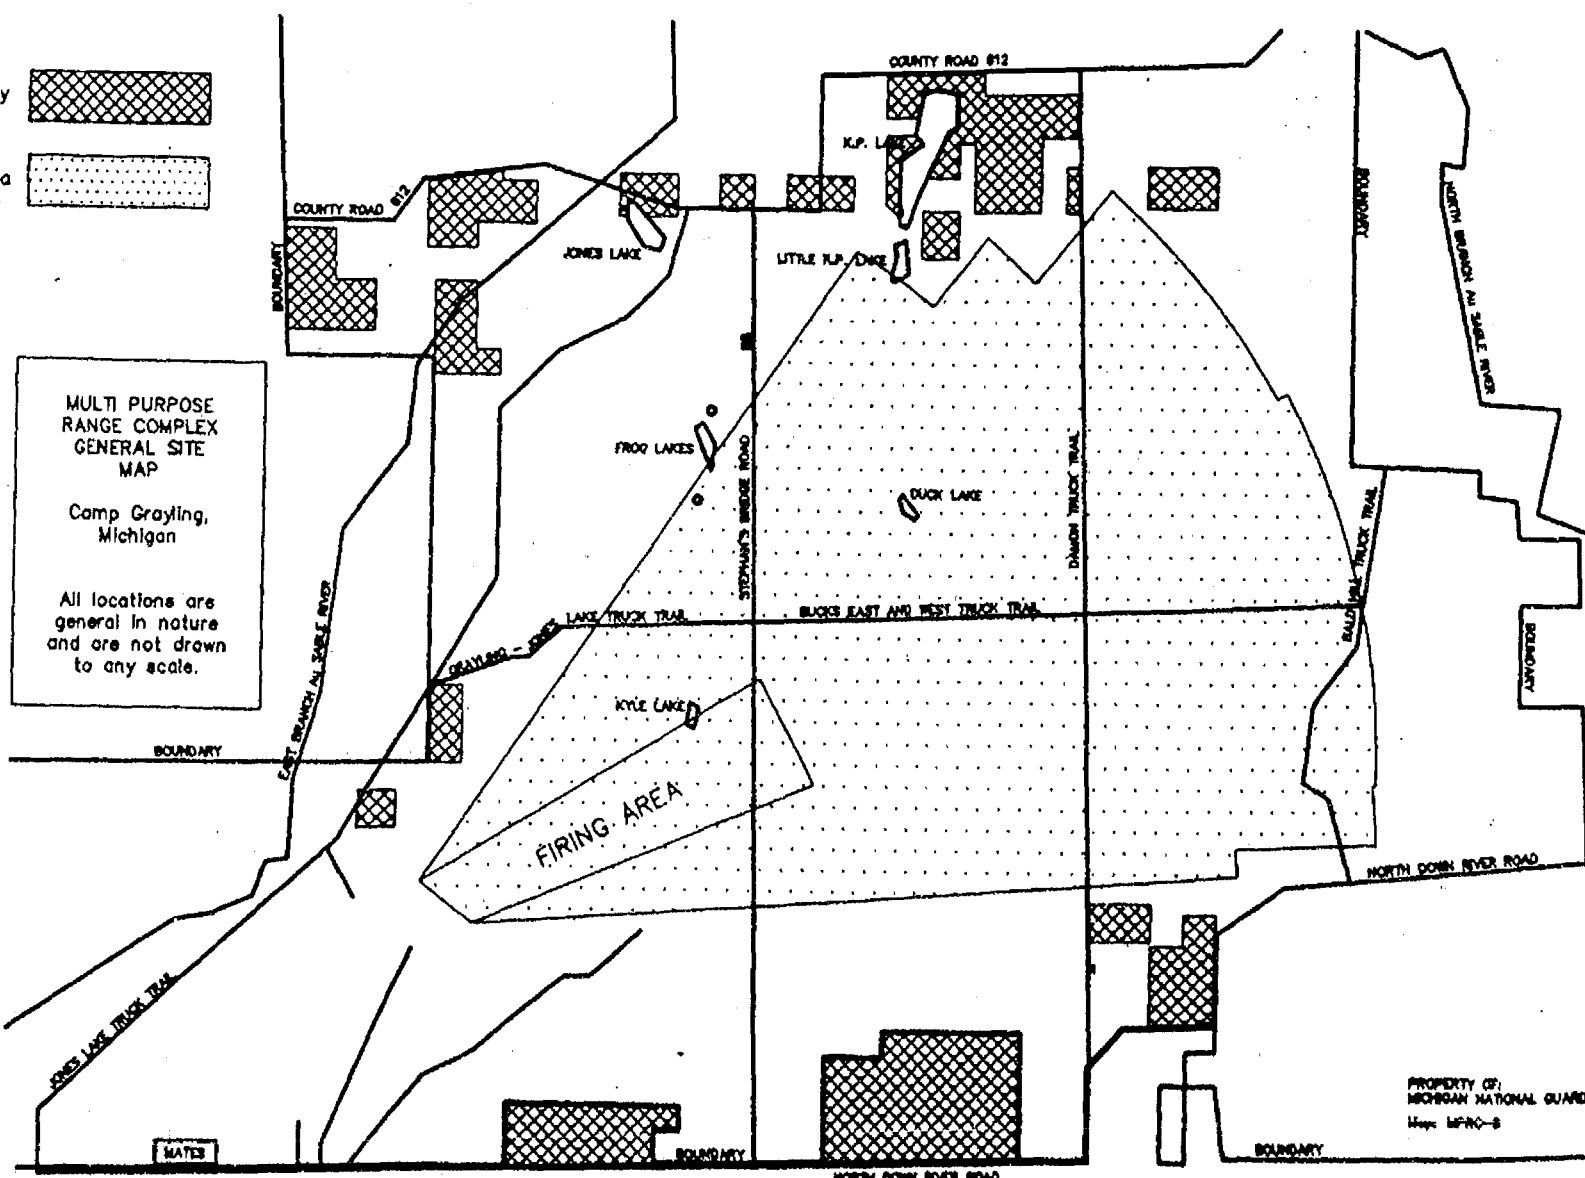

The equity package was begun some years ago to provide Detroit with funds for housing the Museum of Art and similar institutions benefitting the entire state, Wakeley pointed out. He said that later a bill was passed which included other city's facilities such as the Gerald Ford Museum in Grand Rapids. He commented that the local area should be included because the camp also serves the citizens of the state.

The military does make a Payment in Lieu of Taxes (PILT) amounting to $.10 per acre and will be paying $1 per acre on the entire reservation next year because of legislation which Binsfeld sponsored.

Smithsonian Riverboat Display Invited To Lansing Show

Two Grayling area men are showing citizens of the U.S. how to build an AuSable river boat by demonstrating the art at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington D.C. and at the end of August at the state capitol in Lansing.

It was billed as a part of Michigan's 150th birthday when Jay Stephan and Dave Wyss were invited to the nation's capitol to demonstrate an art unique to our local boat makers. They spent two weeks working on a craft that was only a bare skeleton at the beginning of the session.

According to Wyss, the bottom of the river boat had been laid and Stephan had the braces made before they began the two week demonstration. By the end of the period, the sides, cloth, deck and back seat had been put in place.

Wyss said that at times it was difficult to work because of the crowds of people around their space. The men did not mind, however, because there were some good questions and genuine interest shown, he said. Why is the boat so long and what is the purpose of the boat were the most frequently asked questions, he noted.

Once those questions are asked, it is necessary to stop everything and narrate the entire history of the craft, Wyss said. "Stephan did most of the work and I talked with the crowds until he needed a hand," he commented.

In addition to the boat building, the men demonstrated fly tying and streamside cooking. Wyss said that a lady from Baldwin had an exhibit where she demonstrated fly tying. "Once in a while," he said, "I went over to her station and she tied a pattern they use on the Pere Marquette River and then I tied the same type of fly that we use on the AuSable River."

Another experience faced by the men was what was described as a talk stage. Periodically during the two weeks they were on the stage and faced questions by a host who asked about key things having to do with the craft, fishing, outdoor cooking or related items, Wyss observed. It was also opened to the audience for questions and some of them had very good ones, he said. There were a number of boat builders there from the Baltimore area and they even came up with some suggestions about methods of construction, he commented.

Other portions of the Michigan program involved Black gospel, assorted styles of fiddle and accordion playing and a variety of ethnic music. Cooks demonstrated how to prepare muskrat, smoked fish and "pasties," meat-filled pastries. Craft demonstrations included Native-American quill-work and blackash basketry, Finnish-American rag-rug weaving and other traditional crafts such as woodcarving and needlework.

A program on Michigan waterways - the Great Lakes and inland rivers - included the demonstrations of boat building and exhibits on fishing and river culture. Visitors learned about the state's agricultural traditions from representatives of the cherry industry and evergreen nurseries and about Michigan's backwoods from trappers.

For those who would be interested in viewing the entire program, the Michigan Sesquicentennial Commission and the Michigan State University Museum have cooperated to bring it to the MSU campus as a part of the Michigan Festival. The program runs from August 21-30. It will be open from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Wyss said that he and Stephan would be there and will probably take a couple of boats that need some repair work.

Northern Views

What a week!

There were enough events in Grayling last week to last a summer. On Saturday alone, you had to be a whirlwind to see everything going on.

The two biggest events were the parade and the 40th annual AuSable marathon. The parade was probably the best ever witnessed in Grayling and thousands lined the streets. The $25,000 canoe race definitely had its biggest crowds ever.

Besides watching the parade or following the race, on Saturday you could also visit the Icehouse Quilt Show, one of the best in the state, or you could check out the arts and crafts displays at the mini-mall. In the morning the Milltown 10K and Fun Run was held and the Cornell Tennis Tournament started its long day of matches.

In addition to these events, the Canoe Hall of Fame had its Grand Opening, Sawmill Days were going on at Hartwick Pines, a pony-pulling contest was held at Fick's, and hot air balloon rides were offered.

If this wasn't enough, Grayling was hosting the Little League District games.

Quite a lot of action for a small berg and too much action for the Avalanche to handle as well as we would like to.

Although compliments are due to many people, here are a few that I can pass along.

JODY HINKLE, a GHS band alumna, said the GHS marching band was excellent in the parade. DON CEISS, who photographed the parade, said the GHS band directed by DENNIS ORMSBEE was among the top five entries for drawing applause.

STEVE SOUTHARD and all the others connected with the marathon deserve our applause and a well-earned rest. What an event that race has turned into! The top paddlers in North America racing our river for $25,000. It's first-rate competition and BOB MADSEN thinks ABC or a major network ought to be televising the event.

KATHRYN YATICH, KIM SPRINGER, and the others running the children's games in the park had many parents saying it was the best organized children's event they had been to.

The condition of the Little League field drew praise from other area teams during the district action here. Anyone who drives by the field regularly notices how often JIM TOBIN, GERRY ST. GERMAIN, JOE THOMPSON, MIKE KUCHARSK, and others on the Little League board are at the field working. The concession stand volunteers also have put in many hours of work to help Little League.

D.J. Taylor deserves a standing ovation from Grayling for all her work as chairwoman of the Milltown Festival. Overall it was the best Milltown ever.

Letters to the Editor

Milltown Takes Effort From Everyone

Dear Jon and members of the community,

In the afterglow, or is that exhaustion glow, of the successfully completed Milltown Festival, a few comments before we start on next year's event.

Thanks to you and your staff for all your assistance and especially for the Milltown addition to the Avalanche, it really made a very special reminder for this year's festival and also helped refresh our memories of what the "good ole days" were like.

Now if you, a merchant, a visitor, a resident, a guard, or whatever else you might be, enjoyed the Clydesdales, the parade, the activities, the arts and crafts and the canoe race, remember it costs money to have an event of the size Milltown festival has become. Bands, motorcycles, calliopes, mini-cars, pipers, and other entries are not cheap.

We receive no funds from the Chamber of Commerce, City, or State. The festival committee must raise all necessary funds needed by selling tickets, shirts (that's right, all those Clydesdale shirts, hats, etc. were being sold to help fund the festival) and other fundraising events. That takes a lot of time and effort by many people in the community, most of whom are already on overload due to summer business at its peak.

Right now, while you have all those nice memories, think about making a donation to help cover the costs. Any amount will help, $5.00, $10.00, $25.00, $50.00, or whatever you can afford. All monies go to Milltown Festival and will be carried over to help with next year's festival.

Each year we make a few mistakes, learn something new and try something different. Sometimes it works, sometimes it doesn't, but we keep on plugging away. All suggestions are welcome and can be taken in writing or come to the next meeting which will be announced in the paper.

Donations can be sent to Milltown Festival, P.O. Box 427, Grayling or can be dropped off at Mac's Drugs.

Help us make next year's event even better.

Sincerely,
Sherry Haag, Treasurer,
Milltown Festival
Committee

Wants To Avoid Mix-up Next Year

I would like to thank all the people who were responsible for the Milltown parade. I know a lot of time went into making it happen.

I do feel however that somewhere along the line some communication among some unknown people became very confused.

As a parent living in Grayling I want to express how I feel so this hopefully won't happen again.

A group of about 40 girls in Baton ranging in ages from 4 to 15 were asked to perform a program downtown about 1:00. The street was supposed to be closed off.

The girls were all there at 12:30 so they'd be on time. They all waited and waited until it was too late to perform and had to line up for the parade.

After the parade was over the girls tried to go through their different routines and were told to clear the street and leave. Many of the little girls were in tears. They had practiced last week alone three different times and weren't given the courtesy certainly due them.

Whoever was in charge of this I certainly hope that in the future if a group is invited to perform, they will be treated better.

Unfortunately the girls don't feel welcome for next years parade.

Sincerely,
Shirley Welke

Almanack

On NOW ... and Sham Pickets

by Richard Millman

HERE ARE SOME random thoughts about some random subjects

ON WOMEN CANDIDATES — Leaders of the National Organization for Women are pushing women candidates for elective office, especially a female candidate for president any female candidate.

"You will hear from us," promised outgoing NOW President Eleanor Smeal, at the group's recent national convention.

U.S. Rep. Pat Schroeder, Colorado Democrat, who is contemplating formal entry into the presidential race, is the obvious NOW favorite. As noted some time back in this space, I think Pat Schroeder should run, too, although I'm not promising I'll vote for her.

But NOW wants more. Vows Ms. Smeal:

"We are determined to fight from the top of the ticket to the bottom of the ticket to change the direction of our country to be much more concerned with human services and modern problems."

NOW THAT'S A FEMALE chauvinist view if you ever heard one — and if you listen to Eleanor Smeal and comparable feminist zealots, you'll hear quite a few.

Obviously Ms. Smeal feels that only women, not men, can be "concerned with human services and modern problems." Hogwash. There's got to be better reason to vote for a woman than that.

Men candidates and women candidates should be judged on the same scale. I've voted for women candidates in the past, and I'll vote for women candidates in the future; but not because of a belief that a woman is automatically "concerned with human services and modern problems," and a man is not.

Ms. Smeal also told NOW that women should stop thinking of themselves as a "special interest group." She's right — but her actions and most of her rhetoric believe that view.

Ms. Smeal and her NOW colleagues should scrap emotionalism and get realistic.

ON PICKET LINE SHAM — Democratic state chairs held a conference in Cleveland recently, and as expected drew all the top candidates and near-candidates for the Democratic nomination for president, including Rep. Pat Schroeder.

But the Democratic stalwarts, who traditionally have been accused with some justification of being overly tight with organized labor, ran into a bit of a snag.

It seems the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians was on strike and was picketing the hall to protest coverage by non-union network TV personnel of the meeting and the news-juicy appearance of all the politicians.

BUT DEMOCRATIC LEADERS, and most especially would-be Democratic presidential nominees, simply do not cross labor union picket lines.

So the conference leaders, led by Michigan's Rick Weiner as president of the Democratic State Chairs, worked out a compromise.

NABET pickets would picket only at a side door to the hall, and all the pro-union Democrats could walk sanctimoniously into the hall through the front door, without crossing a picket line.

Well, to quote a semi-well-known late night TV personality: Isn't that special!

When is a picket line not a picket line? Apparently, when politicians want to get in to the hall.

ON LIFE IN THE LEGISLATURE — What's the real reason many members continue to run for and continue to serve in the state legislature? Why, because it's a darned good job, it seems.

House Speaker Gary Owen let the cat out of the bag on a television interview show the other day.

We've all been touched in the past — usually every year or so — by the pleas from various quarters that legislative pay should be raised because members really are sacrificing and they are only in Lansing to serve the public and they could earn lots more money someplace else and they shouldn't be made to suffer because of their desire to serve and how we should keep the best people in office by raising their pay.

BUT REALLY, SOME members consider the legislature primarily as a way to make a living, and as a stopping-off place until something better comes along. At least, that's apparently what Speaker Owen thinks.

"I'd be inclined to retire today if I could make a living ... to become comfortable and make a decent living," Mr. Owen is quoted as saying about his $61,163 a year job.

"Being speaker is a good job ... it's a very good job."

"My plans are probably to run for another term. If something else comes along that's better than speaker of the House, I would certainly consider it."

So much for self-sacrificing public service.

Of course, for many lawmakers, nothing better ever comes along that tops life, and the payscale, in the legislature.

Task Force Encourages Independence for Welfare Recipients

By Warren M. Hoyt
Michigan Press Association

to find counties which might be interested in developing a pilot program to incorporate the job plan.

Counties which the task force indicated might be possible sites include Dickinson, Berrien, Muskegon, Wayne, Genesee, Mecosta, Oakland, Chippewa, and Isabella.

Krause said the DSS officials in Kent County have indicated an interest in the program.

If a pilot program is successfully developed and its program can be monitored, the task force may consider budget requests to fund additional programs. A pilot project could run for as long as two years, Krause said.

Specific recommendations include that employable persons should be required to participate in daily employment-training activities; every applicant should be given information on how to increase spending power while working and still retain some benefits; the DSS should encourage more integration between DSS offices, local employers and local employment training agencies; the DSS staff should be re-defined to better assist applicants and clients in finding jobs, and performance standards should be established for an independent firm to evaluate the success of each pilot program.

While the report focused on job training and placement, members of the task force indicated the program will involve several other areas upon which welfare recipients are dependent.

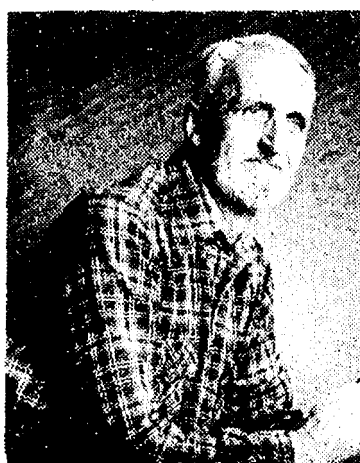

Ways to address reimbursement for child care will be investigated, as well as insurance coverage for participants.

Some participants might also need transportation to and from their jobs, the report concluded.

Litter-Litter Everywhere

By Don Geiss

A friend of ours who has now retired from his law enforcement job with the DNR once said that people who litter give no thought to the thousands of people who will follow them to the same spot and add their bit of litter. He pointed out that one cigarette butt adds to another until the ground is covered.

It certainly was that way on the AuSable River and along the road approaches to the stream. We have been following the cleanup campaign done by the county jail inmates with a video and still camera. Entire foam coolers, wine cooler bottles, cans, socks and even a good pair of shoes (slightly water logged) have been among the water trash. The North Down River Road task has much more of a variety.

On one trek we discovered a five gallon paint pail (it was not really that hard to spot), many half pint liquor bottles, military ration packages, Big Gulp containers and some Pizza Hut containers, just to name a few specimens.

Lately there has been a lot of criticism of citizens in this area by downstate newspapers, Natural Resources Commissioners and sportsmen because of our opposition to some of the state ideas for controlling the river. Somehow those same people never get around to pointing out the good things that are done locally to protect that same river and beautify the lands around it.

They don't brag about the AuSable Property Owners Association donating money and supervising the erosion control of one riverbank. They are silent when it comes to locals objecting to more land for the military. Not a sound is heard when the DNR itself grades public access sites so that they drain into the river.

Meanwhile our local river property owners maintain their land so that they are not eyesores or eroded. Citizens like Mike Wieland prow the stream searching for ways to make it wilder and cleaner. Bob Smock uses his days off to work along with the inmates to clean up the litter. Sheriff Harold Hatfield wants to give the inmates something to do and have a reward of some days off their sentence by working for the good of the community. You can bet though that much of his regard for the job he has done in getting the cleanup started is because he loves the river and wants it clean. Howard Hatfield at the Fish Hatchery does all of the book work and makes the daily assignments for the inmates. Ed Robinson volunteers daily to work along with the inmates on the roads or rivers.

We have probably missed lots of names and there are those who will never be known. The fellows Smock and I met last Sunday cleaning up the Wakeley bridge Access site after the canoe race were unknown to either of us. They were just out there cleaning up.

That's what it takes to keep things cleaned up - lots of pride in the area. The notoriety for doing the job may not be recognized by the critics but we can still have a lot of self satisfaction that in the final analysis, it is our work that keeps things looking wild.

Puppets To Help Lead Vacation Bible School

Children, ages 4 to the 8th grade, can receive special instructions of the story of Easter, and the eternal promise of Easter at the Vacation Bible School of Mt. Hope Lutheran church August 3-7th, 9-11:30 a.m. each day. We are located on U.S. 27 North, across from the Fairgrounds. The puppets, Bernie the Rabbit, Desmond the Rat, Jimmy Cockroach and Humphrey the Lion will be sharing all five days, telling us what Easter is all about.

Monday will be the happening of "Maundy Thursday". Just the mention of this tricky heading may raise questions. Please come and hear the answers from our Puppets and the Bible stories we'll be telling you about it.

Tuesday: We'll be talking about "Good Friday", but for Christians it was a black Friday, until Easter Morning. We'll explain the whole story when you come.

Wednesday: We'll talk about "Easter Sunday", and the one man who gave His life for every one of us. We're also going to have a cookie-bake on this day. We'll then serve these cookies when we have our open house Thursday evening.

Thursday: "The Road to Emmaus" is our theme. Jesus arose from the dead and appeared to two men on this road. We're also going to visit Mercy Manor and do some visiting ourselves: to the sick and elderly.

Friday: We'll be celebrating the Ascension of Jesus into Heaven. We're going to ascend something else into the heavens. We'll have our balloon launch. The balloons will read "He is Risen", and on each one will be a ticket with just your name on it.

Besides the special things we listed on those five days we'll also be singing, telling Bible stories, we'll have crafts, and we'll even divide into Christian families. There will be refreshments all five days.

If you will be without transportation, or have any other questions, please call our church office, 348-5921.

... about your Social Security

Many people don't realize the important role the Social Security disability program plays in providing economic security for American families. Like disability itself, it's something that always happens to "the other guy."

However, for 4 million American workers and their families, the Social Security disability program is a primary source of income. The breadwinners are people who suffer from a severe physical or mental condition which prevents them from working for a year or more, or is expected to result in death. The benefits continue for as long as they remain disabled.

To sustain this important program for current workers, the law requires that most disabled beneficiaries be reviewed at least once every 3 years to determine if they are still disabled.

The Disability Benefits Reform Act of 1984 revamped the disability review process to make it more humane and to ensure the accuracy and fairness of the disability review decision. Since January 1, 1986, cases have been reviewed under a "Medical improvement review standard." The new criteria requires that, with few exceptions, substantial evidence of medical improvement and ability to engage in substantial gainful activity must be shown before there can be a determination that disability has ended.

Anyone with questions about Social Security disability benefits can contact a representative from Social Security at the Courthouse in Grayling the first and third Tuesday of each month from 10:30 until 2:00.

Resource Review

Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

Most drownings occur in less than 3 feet of water and within 10 feet of safety. This may surprise you until you stop to think where most water related recreation takes place: swimming from shore, boating and swimming pools.

A few basic life saving tips may help prevent a drowning which is happening nearby. There are three rules to go by when attempting a water rescue, namely "Reach, throw and go". If a person in distress is near enough, reach for them with anything available. Paddles, fishing poles and tree branches are examples of things to reach with. Be sure you are well balanced and braced so that you are not pulled into the water by the victim.

If you can't reach the victim with anything, throw them something to grasp. Anything that floats will support them. Some of the items which have saved lives in the past are flotation cushions, ring buoys, empty gallon jugs, floating tackle boxes and duck decoys.

If you must go to the victim, be sure to have something that floats between you and them. They will grab the item and you can get them to safety. Never get yourself in a position where a drowning person can grab you. The result will be two victims instead of one. Even a small child can grip an adult in a fatal choke hold in a panic situation and anyone who is drowning is panicky.

If you are in a boat, be sure the Personal Flotation Devices (PFDs) are out and available and serviceable. Any rip or tear may make a PFD worthless. Be sure everyone on board knows how to use a PFD properly. Most people don't. (Never put your arms through the loops of a cushion, with the cushion on your back - you will float face down in the water.) And always stay with an overturned boat. Don't try to swim to shore.

Northland Soccer Team Heads For Special Olympics

After nearly a year of anticipation and fund raising, and following four months of practice, the Northland Tiger soccer team is ready to depart on its journey to represent Michigan at the 1987 International Special Olympics summer games. The squad will depart from Glen's Market in Grayling at 8 a.m. on Friday, July 31, for its trip to the competition which will run through August 8th at Notre Dame University in South Bend, Indiana.

With 4,000 athletes representing all 50 states and 70 different nations, the 1987 International Special Olympics will be the largest sporting event held outside of the World Olympic games. Besides the local soccer team, Michigan will send 80 other athletes competing in track and field, gymnastics, swimming, bowling, softball and basketball.

The Grayling area is represented on the soccer team with four players. Chris Whaley, Jerry Whaley and Chris Wylie are the team's forwards and Tom Ferguson is a defender. The remaining 12 players on the squad are from Oscoda and Roscommon counties. Team competition will begin on Sunday, August 2 and continue through August 7th. The local olympians will also have an opportunity to earn individual medals in a soccer skills competition to be held on August 6th.

A highlight of the competition promises to be the opening ceremonies which will be held on August 2 in Notre Dame stadium. A crowd of nearly 60,000 spectators is expected to be on hand as the athletes and coaches from around the world parade into the stadium. World renowned performers including singer Whitney Houston, pianist Marvin Hamlisch and composer John Williams will perform for the athletes and spectators. The opening ceremonies will be rebroadcast on ABC television, Monday, August 3 from 9-11 p.m.

Park Interpreter

We often see toads in the garden or along the foundation of a building where they have hunkered down in the warm earth. While there are 277 species of true toads in the world only seventeen species live in North America.

The most obvious characteristic of a toad is their extremely warty skin. Each wart is a clump of swollen poison glands. The poison is powerful enough to make dogs sick or even kill them. The poison will do the same for snakes or other predators that take toads into their mouths. Despite this, toads do not cause warts when you handle them.

One source I have recommends that you wash your hands after handling them, and to keep your fingers away from your mouth and eyes until you do.

Toads may be common, but are only seen in large numbers during breeding season. Large numbers may gather in shallow pools. The male clings to the female and fertilizes the eggs as they are laid in a pair of gelatinous strings. The female may lay as many as 25,000 eggs.

Toads do not have teeth, but they will try to eat almost any moving object small enough to swallow, except their young. Some toads seem to learn that insects are attracted by lights and they will wait there. Some insects must taste bad as they are spit out immediately. Toads are active at night so are not often seen unless they are disturbed in their day time lair.

1st Real Estate Business Required Dedication

By Don Geiss

Not many realtors have sold property at night by flashlight, but Art Clough had clients who insisted on viewing a sizable piece of lakeside acreage and signed the papers the next day.

Jeannette Kitchen, now the real estate broker-owner of Art Clough Realty, tells the story on her father whom she said took the people far out in the area where the military ranges are now located to Kyle Lake. She noted that the headlights of the car and a couple of flashlights were used to look over the area. She said that the man and his wife bought the property and spent some happy years at the cottage they built there. Eventually the military traded them for large plots on Guthrie and Section One Lakes.

A chain of events began Clough on his way toward a realty vocation. In 1937 his home on the south side burned to the ground. The insurance received from the fire, amounting to about $1,000, was spent in purchasing the parcel of land on which the office and parking lot now stand and 23 acres across the street.

Clough built two cement block cabins where the Grayling Glass Company now stands and the family lived in one of them while he built the home which was located where the parking lot is now. He erected the cabins for rental purposes because as a fisherman he was aware of the potential for renting them.

As a supervisor for the Works Progress Administration (WPA) for this part of Michigan, Clough traveled considerably. In the process he met Hazel Fritz of Boyne City who convinced him to open a branch office of Northern Michigan Realty in Grayling. He began the sale of real estate in an office attached to the house. It was made of two chicken coops that he had obtained and moved from the country. In 1941 he took his broker's test and became a separate company as Art Clough Real Estate.

Kitchen said that during the war people had money to spend on recreation and fortunately Clough was the only person in Grayling who sold property. She explained that while there was someone who sold portions of an estate, Clough was the only person in the business as it is known today; that is, she said, listing and selling other people's property. She said that her father also began buying parcels and subdividing them.

Kitchen said that those were very lucrative years. It was a good location and people were buying north country land. He opened a branch office in Kalkaska with a very capable couple managing it. Unfortunately they moved back to southern Michigan and, unable to replace such an efficient pair, he closed that office.

About that time Charles Holcamp joined the firm and the two built many houses in Clough's Highland Acres. Clough then designed an interlocking type of log for cabins and an engineer friend from Toledo drew up the plans for it. Subsequently it was patented and Clough built the mill across the street to manufacture the logs. They then built many log cabins with his son Art in charge of the building portion of the business and the manufacturing. At some point later he sold the log manufacturing business to someone in Kentucky.

He also went into the insurance business during the early years, Kitchen said. The real estate and insurance business went hand in hand at that time, she noted. Eventually he sold that business to Bill Sorenson.

Clough operated out of his home office for about 15 years and the present building was constructed to be used as a sport shop. She noted that soon he added a real estate office to the sport shop. She said that her grandfather operated the sport shop for some time and then an aunt and uncle took over for a while. Eventually Clough spent more and more winter time in Florida and turned the sport shop over to Kitchen's first husband.

Clough, now, 82, continues to sell some property but the business is now in Kitchen's name and she manages it. She obtained her salesperson's license 21 years ago and sold for six years before passing the broker's test.

Kitchen said that many unusual things still come up and she turns to her dad for advice on how to handle it. She noted that Sunset Plat and Highland Acres are both her father's origination. She observed that each of the streets is named after a different member of the family.

Eight persons are now engaged in the business of real estate sales in the Clough office. About half are full time sales persons while others bring in some listings or make some sales.

Clough and his wife Lillian recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary with an invitational party at the Knights of Columbus Hall. After the party he told us of an experience he had while more actively engaged in selling property. It is a story that probably best illustrates the dedication he has and those who followed him have in the real estate business.

Clough was facing surgery and prior to his hospital date he also developed shingles. The doctor gave him a shot for the shingles but said it would probably make him sick. It indeed made him ill enough to go home and start getting ready for bed. About that time there was a knock on the door and upon answering it, Clough was introduced to two preachers who wanted to look at some rural property.

Clough dragged himself out of the house and drove to an area near Wakeley Lake with the two ministers. He was feeling very bad by this time and after locating the southwest corner stake of the property told the ministers to look over the land and he would be at the starting point when they were finished.

The ministers left and at this point Clough fainted. He figures he recovered about the time the men came back. They said that they would make an offer on the land but Clough told them to get him back home and he would accept the offer the next day. He made it home and to bed but the next day his condition was still bad. He had made a promise, however, so the offer was made, accepted and at the appropriate time closed.

Clough said that he considered it the supreme sacrifice for his vocation.

The present Clough Realty office.

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

Part 5 - Right-to-Liberty

Is Liberty a gift of God or government? Does it come by birth or law? Who or what determines our definition of Liberty, God or man, the Bible or the Legislature?

From the Jefferson Memorial on the south banks of Washington's Tidal Basin, one of our forefathers, Thomas Jefferson, still speaks: "God who gave us life gave us liberty. Can the liberties of a nation be secure when we have removed a conviction that these liberties are a gift of God? Indeed I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just, that his justice cannot sleep forever."

James Madison, the father of our constitution, said, "We have staked the whole future of American civilization, not upon the power of government, far from it. We have staked the future of all of our political institutions upon the capacity of each and all of us to govern ourselves, to control ourselves, to sustain ourselves according to the Ten Commandments of God."

Today, the freedom of religion clause in the First Amendment has been interpreted by our Supreme court to protect education and government from God. By judicial review God, the Bible, Prayer, the Ten Commandments, and all references to our Judeo-Christian roots are excluded.

Five unalienable rights of Liberty are defined in the First Amendment to our constitution: freedom of Religion, freedom of Speech, freedom of the Press, freedom of peaceful assembly, and freedom to petition government for a redress of grievances.

It is our religious system of values that gives stability to our society. Lord Devlin, famous British jurist once said, "A sense of right and wrong is necessary for the life of a community. Without it the society will destroy itself. History shows that the lessening of moral bonds is the first stage of disintegration." People tell us it is wrong to legislate morality, yet every law imposes someone's morality upon the entire society.

When our forefathers imprinted "...proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof..." (Leviticus 25:10), upon the Liberty Bell, they declared to all at the signing of the Declaration of Independence that every American had an unalienable right to liberty as a gift of our Creator God.

Today freedom of religion is under severe attack. Those who ignore this threat may well lose their other freedoms as well. All our liberties stand or fall with God and the Bible.

VOLUME vs. VALUE

The story surfaces often in the business world. Two brothers entered the watermelon business. They bought a truck and loaded it with watermelons. They paid $1.00 each for the melons, drove into the city, and sold the melons for $1.00 each.

Business was booming, but they finally discovered they were making no profit. They had a meeting and decided the solution to their profit problem was to buy a bigger truck!

They were guided more by passion for the product than wisdom of profit. Often the passion to produce—to succeed at whatever cost—blinds to the reality that life is not measured by VOLUME but by VALUE; that profit in life cannot be measured by what is gained but by what is paid and what is lost in the process.

Jesus said it centuries ago: "What does it profit a man if he should gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" (Matt. 16:26) He indicates that volume is not a criterion for success. Even the volume of gaining the whole world is too small a gain to pay one's soul for.

How can a renter insure peace-of-mind?
No problem.

Auto-Owners Apartment Dwellers coverage protects the contents of your apartment from loss due to theft, vandalism, fire, water, wind and other losses. It also covers you and your family in case someone is injured in an apartment accident. And you can even get coverage that pays for temporary living quarters, in case something happens to your apartment. Ask your "no problem" Auto-Owners agent about renter's insurance for your peace-of-mind.

Special Meeting — July 21, 1987

Members present: F. Blaauw, R. O'Mara, M. Ashton, A. Stancil.

Members absent: R. McLachlan

AGENDA

1. Planning Commission Case 87-6: Charles Guenther, et al
2. Jones Lake Road Special Assessment District.
- Motion (O'Mara/Blaauw) carried to open public hearing on agenda item No. 1.

1. Supervisor explained this hearing was requested per Section 7.01D of Grayling Township Zoning Ordinance 83-4 by North Star Development, owners of a parcel of land included in the rezoning request of Case 87-6. North Star Development requests this board review the recommendation of the Planning Commission which on May 26, 1987, after a public hearing, recommended approval of re-zoning from R-2 to R-1 a portion of the original petition.

The original petition requested rezoning from R-2 to R-1 all that part of the Northeast 1/4 of Section 8, T26N, R3W, lying East of I-75 R.O.W. and North of the AuSable River, except the 400 feet along the North bank of the river for the purpose of: Limiting all adjoining property North of Beaver Island Road in said description to conform with single family dwellings in the Green Belt Zone North of AuSable River opposite property described herein.

The Planning Commission recommended the following for re-zoning: All that part of the NE/4 of Section 8, T26N, R3W, lying East of the I-75 R.O.W. and North of the AuSable River, except the N/ly 400 feet of the NW/4 of the NE/4 lying South of North Down River Road and the NE/4 of the NE/4 and the 400 feet along the North Bank of the river.

Reasons: 1. Compatible with existing single family use of adjacent Green Belt. 2. Other than R-1 would increase traffic and decrease existing area property values. 3. The 400' deep strip along N. Down River Road would be more suitably Commercial. 4. The 40 acres belonging to the School District should be Deferred Development at this point.

Supervisor opened the floor to comments, pro and con, on the Planning Commission's recommendation.

Mark Dandy, representing North Star Development, stated his corporation had purchased their parcel because it was zoned R-2 and multiple family dwellings were allowed in R-2 as a Conditional Use. Also, that there is no available property near town suitable for multi-family that is zoned R-2 or R-P, the only zones which allow such development. Their parcel will be of no value to them if the area is rezoned R-1.

Charles Guenther, Nelson Miles, Dan Waltz, Wm. Fraser, Bud Hunter, Merland and Mae Sontag and Bruce Patrick spoke in favor of the Planning Commission's recommendation stating the neighborhood would appreciate the protection that the R-1 designation would give to ensure the area would stay single family but requested the School District property be included in this re-zoning to R-1.

Discussion followed. Ruth O'Mara requested a show of hands which found eleven in favor of the original petition, which included the school property, no one in favor of the recommendation of the Planning Commission and one opposed to the re-zoning in its entirety.

Motion (Blaauw/O'Mara) carried to close public hearing.

Motion by O'Mara, supported by Blaauw, to adopt an amendment to Grayling Township Zoning Ordinance 83-4, to be known as Ordinance 87-2, which re-zones the following described property from R-2 to R-1:

All of that part of the Northeast 1/4 of Section 8, T26N, R3W, lying East of I-75 R.O.W. and North of the AuSable River, except the 400 feet along the North Bank of the River and, also excepting, the N/ly 400 feet of the NW/4 of NE/4 lying South of North Down River Road.

Roll call: Blaauw, aye; O'Mara, aye; Ashton, aye; McLachlan, absent; Stancil, aye. Motion carried.

Motion (O'Mara/Ashton) carried to open public hearing on Jones Lake Road Special Assessment District.

This public hearing is to receive input regarding the abolishment of the Jones Lake Special Assessment District and issuing refunds for any overpayment of amounts owed thereon. The reason for considering abolishment of the district is the increased ownership and usage of the N.E. end of Jones Lake Road by the military, thus negating the benefits of the continuance of said road improvement project.

Richard Mercier stated he feels the final 1.4 mile phase should be completed as planned.

Anthony Dobry feels the project should continue if those still holding property on the North end want it completed as contracted.

Jack Pierce votes to continue.

Supervisor has received the following correspondence: A. Dept. of Military Affairs: No opinion, pro or con, but have no demonstrated need for the hard surfacing portion of the road. B. Wm. E. Ruddy: Continuation of the project would not be in the best interests of the property owners within the S.A.D. or taxpayers as a whole. C. Richard Elwood: Discontinue the project.

John Wejrowski, representing Edmund and Adelle Wejrowski, Robert and Paula Thering, Harold and Nancy Stegman, Mabel Stegman and Carl and Lilly Ann Gill, stated they were not in favor of continuing the project, however, they questioned how the road would be maintained when the project ended.

John Keir, Road Commission Engineer, stated they plan to remove present stumps, apply some gravel and re-shape and grade the remaining one plus mile at no charge.

The Road Commission position, according to Commissioner Gloria Kraus, is that the project is no longer in the best interests of the people whose tax dollars are paying for it and that the District should be abolished, thus freeing these unexpended funds to be used in areas they are truly needed.

Discussion and show of hands: Continue: three, abolish: eleven.

Motion (O'Mara/Blaauw) carried to close public hearing.

Motion by Blaauw, supported by O'Mara, to adopt the following resolution abolishing Jones Lake Road Special Assessment District.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the Grayling Township Board, at a special meeting, held May 24, 1984 resolved to proceed under MCL 41.721 et. seq. toward making improvements to Jones Lake Road and Pines Road from Jones Lake Road to the north boundary of Section 23, T27N, R3W, and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held by the Grayling Township Board on June 12, 1984 to hear opposition to or support for the above-mentioned project and it was resolved that the estimated cost of the project be approved and,

WHEREAS, a special meeting of the Grayling Township was held on July 3, 1984 at which meeting the special assessment roll was affirmed creating the Jones Lake Road Special Assessment District and

WHEREAS, a request has been made to the Grayling Township Board by the Crawford County Road Commissioners to curtail the project short of completion due to increased military ownership along that portion of Jones Lake Road not yet completed and

WHEREAS, a Public Hearing was held on this date, July 21, 1987 to hear public input into continuation of the project or curtailment thereof, and

WHEREAS, a majority of the property owners attending said public hearing spoke in favor of abolishing the Jones Lake Road Special Assessment District prior to completion, and

WHEREAS, it is the opinion of the Crawford County Road Commissioners in attendance at said public hearing that the, as yet unexpended, funds committed to Jones Lake Road would work to a better advantage on other roads in the County.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Grayling Township Board that the final 1.4 mile phase of the Jones Lake Road Blacktopping Project be curtailed and Jones Lake Road Special Assessment District be dissolved and abolished.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the subsequent to an audit of the Jones Lake Road Special Assessment Roll accounts by a Certified Public Accountant, designated by Grayling Township, that a public hearing be scheduled to review terms of disbursement of excess funds collected, if any.

Roll call: O'Mara, aye; Ashton, aye; Blaauw, aye; McLachlan, absent; Stancil, aye. Motion carried.

Motion (Blaauw/O'Mara) approved to adjourn.

WINNERS CIRCLE

BY LAURIE KIPP

We often get questions about how Michigan Lottery revenues support education. Details are provided below.

Q: How much has the Lottery contributed toward education since its start?

A: Lottery net revenues for education have totaled about $2.5 billion since the first ticket was sold in November of 1972.

Q: How is this money used?

A: The governor signed legislation in May of 1981 which specifically earmarks revenues from all Michigan Lottery games for the state School Aid Fund to help support kindergarten-12th grade education. Prior to that time, the money first went into the general fund, along with other revenues for schools.

Q: How is the money given to school districts?

A: Lottery revenues are disbursed to individual school districts by the Michigan Department of Education according to terms of the state School Aid Formula which was developed by the legislature.

Q: How much does the Lottery contribute?

A: During the 1985-86 fiscal year, the Lottery's contribution exceeded $415 million, or about 22 percent of money in that fund. Other fund money comes from various state taxes and is then supplemented by general fund revenue.

Q: Has the Lottery contribution been increasing?

A: Yes. In fact, it has more than doubled since the 1981-82 fiscal year. For the past two years, it has exceeded the amount provided by the federal government.

Q: Why haven't my school taxes gone down then?

A: The annual state budget for support of elementary and secondary education has also increased during the past few years. So, while your taxes may not have come down, maintaining the same level of educational funding without Lottery revenues would have cost the average Michigan household an additional $130 last year alone.

Q: How does this compare to previous years?

A: In the Lottery's first year, 1972-73, the equivalent figure would have been about $11 per household. This grew to about $64 in 1981-82, and came to approximately $113 in 1984-85.

For submitting the question leading to this column, 50 tickets to the current instant game, "Winning Numbers," have been sent to Donna Vanderwall of Ontonagon.

If you have a Lottery question not yet covered in these monthly columns, send it to: "Winners Circle," Michigan Lottery, P.O. Box 30077, Lansing, MI 48909.
